Syn. B 59 103

● Newe Mone the xxv. day, about halfe an houre after high none, thicke blacke clowdes importing rayne. The xxvj. abyding dyspoled to moysture. The xxvij. warme and rayne. The xxix. more temperate from heat. The xxx. drie, and cooler than before.

¶ Of Iulye.

The first day, drie weather, and temperate. The seconde warme and cleare skyes.

☾ First quarter the thirde day, at two a clocke xxviij. minutes in the morning, drie and smoultie hote. The fourth, moysture, and wynde Northerly. The v. disposed to moysture. The vj. calme, quiet, and temperate. The vij. troublesome, wynde, lightning, and thunder. The viij. fullie hote as before. The ix. more tremulle of heate.

● Full Mone the x. day at x. a clocke, xlvj. minutes at night, cole and temperate, with drought. The xj. lyke disposition as before. The xij. warme and lyghtie. The xiij. lyke disposed. The xiiij. clowdie and rayne. The xv. colde, and clowdie for showers. The xvj. continuing lyke, but warmer. The xvij. shall mixture sometime. The xviij. warme with blasts.

☽ Last quarter, the xix. day, about halfe an houre and more before one a clocke in the morning, fayre and temperate. The xx. cole and lyke to rayne. The xxi. cleere, with wynde Westerlye. The xxij. fayre cleare, and variable. The xxiij. stormie rayne. The xxiiij. lyke to holde as before.

● Newe Mone the xxv. day, at vj. a clocke, xlij. min. at perate season. The xvj. colde and drie. The xvij. continuing temperate. The xviij. white clowdes with blastes. The xix. hote, tempestuous, and wyndie.

1210:68

) Last quarter the xx. day, at vj. a clocke, xxvij. min. before none, moderate for heate, with likelyhode of rayne. The xxj. raine and wyndie. The xxij. colde, clowdie, and moyst. The xxiij. warme and fayre. The xxiiij. drie and sultrie hote. The xxv. wyndie blastes and drie. The xxvj. cole and fayre. The xxvij. warme, with swette wyndes.

● Newe Mone the xxviij. day at foure a clocke xxxvij. minutes before none, wyndie, with warme showers among. The xxix. inclyned to moysture as before. The xxx. dropping nowe and then. The xxj. warme and cleare.

¶ Of Iune.

The first day, wyndes and tempest, and like to thunder. The seconde cole and clowdie.

(First quarter the thirde day, at vj. a clock, xxxiij. minutes in the euening, drie, fayre and temperate. The iiij. some varietie. The v. wette and wyndie. The vj. glumme, and likelyhode of moysture. The vij. broken clowdes ouer heade. The viij. set to rayne. The nynth, holding vp and drie. The tenth, cole, with chaunge of ayre.

● Full Mone the xj. day at viij. a clocke ix. minutes in the morning, hote and smoultrie, threatning thunder. The xij. continuing disposed as before. The xiij. fayre and temperate. The xiiij. alteration of weather. The xv. as before, wynde westerly. The xvj. cole and clowdie for rayne. The xvij. moysture and blastes. The xviij. temperate and lyke to rayne.

) Last quarter the xix. day, halfe an houre before high none, very warme and drie, with whyte clowdes flying.

C.j. The

ing. The xx. continuing as before. The xxj. temperate and drie. The xxij. [illegible] clowdes dispersed. The xxiij. lyke disposition as before. The xxiiij. warme, and bent to rayne. The xxv. continuing as before.

● Newe Moone [illegible] xvj. day, about halfe an houre after high noone, thicke blacke clowdes imporing rayne. The xxvij. abyding dysposed to moysture. The xxviij. warme and fayre. The xxix. more temperate from heat. The xxx. drie, and cooler than before.

¶ Of Iulye.

The first day, drie weather, and temperate. The seconde warme and cleare skyes.

☾ First quarter the thirde day, at two a clocke xxviij. minutes in the morning, drie and smoultie hote. The fourth, moysture, and [illegible] Northerly. The v. disposed to moysture. The vj. calme, quiet, and temperate. The vij. troublesome, wynde, lightning, and thunder. The viij. sultrie hote as before. The ix. more remisse of heate.

● Full Moone the x. day at x. a clocke, xlvj. minutes at night, cole and temperate, with drought. The xj. lyke disposition as before. The xij. warme and wyndie. The xiij. lyke disposed. The xiiij. clowdes imporing rayne. The xv. colde, and clowdie for showers. The xvj. continuing lyke, but warmer. The xvij. small mistings sometime. [illegible] viij. warme with blakes.

☽ Last quarter, the xix. day, about halfe an houre and more before one a clocke in the morning, fayre and temperate. The xx. cole and lyke to rayne. The xxj. cleare, with wynde Westerlye. The xxij. fayre skie, and variable. The xxiij. stormie rayne. The xxiij. lyke to holde as before.

● Newe Moone the xxv. day, at vij. a clocke, xxij. min.

at Yorkeshire. at Ruthin in Wales.

¶ Faires in Nouember.

The seconde daye, at Blechingley. at Kingston. at Marxeelde in Chesshyre.

The vj. day, being S. Leonardes day. at Standley. at Newport ponde. at Trigney in Cornewale. at Halloth. at Lessorde in Lancashire.

The x. day, being Benets day, at Lenton.

The xj. being S. Martins day, at Marlborow. at Douer.

The xiij. daye, being Patrone daye. at S. Edmondesburie. at Gilforde.

The xvij. being S. Hughes daye, (and the beginning of the Queenes Maiesties reygne that nowe is, whome God long preserue.) at Harlowe. at Hyde.

The xix. day, being S. Elizabeths day. at Horsham.

The xx. being S. Edmonds day. at Hide. at Ingerstone.

The xxij. day, being S. Clements day. at Sandwich.

The xxx. day, being S. Andrew the Apostles day. at Colingborough. at Rochester. at Peterfeelde. at Mayden heade. at Warington in Lancashire. at Bewdley. at Barefurd in Yorkeshire. at Olestry in Wales.

¶ Fayres in December.

The first day, which is S. Nicholas euen. at Pluckley.

The vj. day, which is S. Nicholas day. at Spalding. at Shnock. at Exceter. at Arndale. at Northwitch in Chesshire.

The viij. day, being Octa. of S. Andrewe. at Sandhurst.

The viij. daye, being the Concept. of Marie. at Clitherall in Lancashire. at Malpas in Chesshire.

The xxix. daye, at Canterburie. at Salisburie.

¶ Imprynted at London in Powles Churchyard, by Richarde Watkyns, and Iames Roberts.